THE QUEST for REAL IMMUNITY

1st in THE REAL IMMUNITY DOCUMENTARIES

Logline: The answer to real immunity lies within.

First time filmmaker, Cilla Whatcott, interviews forerunners in conventional and alternative medicine to reveal the answer to REAL IMMUNITY. This unique docuseries explores the practices and opinions of doctors, researchers, scientists, and parents who are at the leading edge of the emerging paradigm about health.

Real immunity does not come through a pill or a needle. Searching outside of ourselves for sustainable health is not effective. The new paradigm is authentic; it honors innate intelligence. The first film in the REAL IMMUNITY series, Quest for Real Immunity, focuses on dispelling the fear surrounding disease, encouraging viewers to trust their intuition, and empowering viewers with information from credible sources.

Learn about an antidote to fear from world-renowned immunologist, Dr. Tetyana Obukhanych, about the incredible importance of intuition from Dr. Jeanne Ohm, the director of the International Chiropractic Pediatric Association, and how famed pediatrician, Paul Thomas, attributes who he is to his roots in Rhodesia.

Hear from Dr. Andrew Wakefield, the controversial figure credited with polarizing the vaccine debate, as he discusses antibiotics and mother's intuition.

Rich with imagery and punctuated by the passion of true thought-leaders, Quest for Real Immunity opens the door to raising awareness about the deeper meaning of immunity as our birthright.

PASSAGE TO REAL IMMUNITY

2nd in THE REAL IMMUNITY DOCUMENTARIES

The second documentary in the REAL IMMUNITY series, Passage to Real Immunity, examines natural resources for viewers to create an individualized immunity plan. The 200-year-old method of homeoprophylaxis is highlighted during interviews with families using it, doctors from India, (the country recognizing it as a viable alternative to conventional vaccines), and homeopaths who have long known the power of energetic medicine.

Learn about this well utilized method that addresses the desire for greener and safer options for disease prevention world-wide.

Meet Dr. Isaac Golden, one of the forerunners of homeoprophylaxis research and hear from families who share the questions and doubts that inundate many new parents.

CHOOSING REAL IMMUNITY

3rd in THE REAL IMMUNITY DOCUMENTARIES

Due to be released in 2019, Choosing Real Immunity helps to answer the question of how we can raise the collective consciousness to embrace the genuine immunity that is our birthright.

Organizations such as National Health Freedom Action and the Weston A. Price Foundation share ways you can help create change.

Hear more from famed researcher, Dr. Isaac Golden, about homeoprophylaxis. Learn how Del Bigtree risked it all by abandoning a successful career to team with Dr. Wakefield in making the movie, Vaxxed.

Discover the power of Gemmotherapy, and learn how Torako Yui, the director of the largest homeopathic school in Japan almost died before finding her calling to teach and practice real immunity.

Choosing Real Immunity reflects the dynamic relationship we have with the amazing gift we each possess of a human body designed to move toward perfection.

ENDORSEMENTS

I am highly anticipating REAL IMMUNITY. Cilla's expansive knowledge and experience in homeopathy combined with her empathic and enlightened awareness make me confident we are in for a memorable and inspiring film.

— JANET ROWLES

People are starting to realize that mainstream medicine isn't working. Despite more advanced drugs and surgery, we are still #37 in healthcare within first world countries. What's the alternative? Returning to the model that supports the body's innate ability to heal. We can produce health instead of just relieving symptoms. This documentary is a great place to start your journey.

— DR. DEBRA GAMBRELL, DO

When we ran out of options with conventional medicine we turned to homeopathy and Cilla. Through her expertise in teasing out the causative agents of a diagnosis and her careful selection of remedies, we have seen remarkable, life changing results. Her encouragement and support have been invaluable as we have worked through the healing process. Based on the amazing healing we have seen, we now have great hope of complete recovery through the healing of homeopathy with Cilla guiding us on the journey!

— CELINE F.

Cilla Whatcott, a dedicated practitioner and educator on homeoprophylaxis, adds a valuable resource to the toolkit of overcoming the fear of childhood infections in pursuit of real and sustainable immunity.

— TETYANA OBUKHANYCH, PHD

Cilla Whatcott has a brilliant mind and is gifted at teaching with clarity. Her work is powerful, enlightening, and inspiring.

— HEIDI PEEL

Over the last few years we have taken several of Cilla's Homeopathic Courses and have adopted her as our personal Homeopathic Practitioner. Not only have we benefited from her clinical teachings, but also from her compassionate care in dealing with various health issues. We feel so fortunate to have her in our lives.

— DAVE DORNACKER/JODY SPENCER

My family depends on Cilla's skills, knowledge, attentiveness and follow through when we're ill. She's our first call when someone has a fever, is out of sorts emotionally, and any other ailment. She's reliable, dependable, and is easy to talk to in a non-judgmental way. She's extremely well versed on all things health. She's a member of our family!

— RACHAEL KIMBREL

Cilla has been on our family's health care team since my oldest was born. Thanks to her knowledge and expertise, we have avoided ever needing to use medications with either of our kids. It takes a learning curve to switch to homeopathy as a first line of care, but seeing the amazing results makes me just want to learn more. I'm beyond grateful for knowing Cilla and her work.

CREW BIOS

PRODUCER/DIRECTOR: CILLA WHATCOTT

First time filmmaker, Cilla Whatcott, is producer and director of the documentary film series, REAL IMMUNITY. She earned the distinction of "Most Outstanding Student" from the faculty at Arizona State University while obtaining a degree in dance, which then launched her career of professional dance and choreography. She performed throughout the United States and in the Marshall Islands, where she was choreographer and director of a modern dance company, a private studio, and a children's theater.

After adopting children from China, Taiwan and Russia, as well as having one biological child, Cilla discovered the healing power of natural medicine. She went on to cure asthma, migraines, and kidney disease in her own children. She returned to school for four years of a professional program in homeopathic medicine, and then went on to earn a PhD in clinical homeopathy.

As the author of two books on homeoprophylaxis, a safe alternative for educating the immune system, Cilla organized and directed international conferences; presented at conferences in France, Spain, Ireland, Bali, Canada, and USA; and taught homeopathy at Normandale Community College for nine years. She received the honor of "Activist of the Year" from the Weston A. Price Foundation in 2016.

Her articles are published in multiple natural health blogs and magazines. Coupled with her appearance in The Truth About Vaccines, this has earned her the distinction of one of the forerunners in the field of natural health.

Cilla's desire to help families take responsibility for their health and develop self-sufficiency in support of natural immunity has prompted her to produce REAL IMMUNITY.

ASSOCIATE PRODUCER: JEANNE OHM

Dr. Jeanne Ohm, DC, is an instructor, author, and innovator. Her passion is for training chiropractors with specific techniques for care in pregnancy, birth, and infancy. She's also played a pivotal role in forming national alliances for chiropractors with like-minded perinatal practitioners, empowering mothers to make informed choices, and offering pertinent patient educational materials.

Dr. Ohm is Chief Executive Officer of the International Chiropractic Pediatric Association and Executive Editor of the award-winning magazine, Pathways to Family Wellness. She has practiced family wellness care since 1981 with her husband, Dr. Tom Ohm. They have six children and eight grandchildren, who were all born at home, and are happily living the chiropractic family wellness lifestyle.

ASSOCIATE PRODUCER: JANET LEVATIN

Dr. Janet Levatin, MD, completed medical school at George Washington University and residency at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey and has been a holistic pediatrician since 1986. During her medical training, she was not satisfied with having conventional medical approaches as her only tools. This led her to study a variety of other healing arts, and she ultimately settled on homeopathy as her primary treatment modality. She treats both children and adults with homeopathy as well as herbs, supplements, nutrigenomics and diet modification.

In the 1980s, after seeing three babies die of sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS) within 24 hours of being vaccinated, Dr. Janet embarked on her decades-long, ongoing research into vaccine controversies. She is an outspoken advocate for freedom of choice and fully informed consent with respect to all medical procedures, especially vaccination.

Dr. Janet has traveled to Haiti and Tanzania to provide homeopathic treatment. She hopes to spend more time in Africa in the future volunteering with Homeopathy for Health in Africa.

Currently Dr. Janet works at the Tenpenny Integrative Medical Center in the Cleveland, Ohio, area.

REAL IMMUNITY FAQs

1. Why did you choose to produce REAL IMMUNITY?

Times are changing. We have access to information, and thus, to self-education. We recognize that it's our responsibility to find our own answers about our health, but that doesn't make it easy. Film is an excellent way to reach the most number of people, and it's excellent for education because it appeals to the senses. We learn and transform through all we take in, so film is a vehicle for change that is powerful.

2. How did you find the right crew to work with?

This has been a huge challenge. I took a filmmaking course and through trial and error worked with a few videographers before finding the right fit. Making mistakes and learning who to work with has been costly and time consuming. But I now have a team that I trust and value. It's important to me for everyone working on this project to share a real passion for the vision. I want nothing more than to see them excel in their chosen fields as a result of helping to make my vision a reality!

3. How did you choose the people in the film to be interviewed?

Many of the interviewees are my friends and colleagues, each of whom I respect in the natural health field. I consider them thought leaders and highly aware individuals who are promoting much-needed change in ways that individuals are seeking.

12 | PRESS KIT

4. What has been your biggest challenge?

The biggest challenge has been determining how to deliver the information in an impactful way without polarizing audiences or insulting the intelligence of the viewer. We don't want to miss the mark, either. The information we want to share can change lives, so it's important that we share it in the right way.

5. What do you want to see as a result of people seeing REAL IMMUNITY?

I want to see evidence of consciousness surrounding health and wellness expanding, to see people making the best possible decisions for their health and for their families. We hope people will realize that they have options. This will become evident as people lose their fear about illness and seek out individualized plans for supporting immunity.

6. Who has influenced you?

Two individuals who have deeply influenced me are Isaac Golden and Andrew Wakefield. While their work has been important, who they are as people has been the most potent influence for me. Nothing impresses me or inspires me more than kindness, dignity, and vulnerability. Both these men reflect these qualities in spades!
